

A Truth Regarding Moors / Mexicans

Around 1570, Yanga led a band of slaves in escaping to the highlands near Veracruz Mexico (Northwest Amexem). They built a small maroon settlement, or palenque. It's isolation helped protect it for more than 30 years.

The Spaniards never had a conclusive or definitive victory of these Moors with the intelligence of El Yanga leading on. El Yanga and the rest of the Moors, eventually won their freedom / Autonomy.

In 1871, five decades after Mexican independence, Yanga was designated as a "national hero of Mexico" and El Primer Libertador de las Americas. This was based largely on an account by historian Vicente Riva Palacio.

Much of the subsequent writing about Yanga was influenced by the works of Riva Palacio. He characterized the Maroons of San Lorenzo

Palace of the Governors, Uxmal, Yucatan, Mexico, 1844 by Frederick Catherwood

Arch of Labna, Yucatan, Mexico

Illustration from: 'Views of Ancient Monuments in Central America, Chiapauus and Yucatan', Published London 1844 by Frederick Catherwood

Cu lx, Ku lx, Kaltuun Hix — "Bound-Stone Jaguar"
Also: Tuun K'ab' (Hix Cu lx, Ku lx, K'altuun Hix was a Maya king of the Kaan Kingdom and reigned from the year 520 to 546. He has only been known from foreign references.

Olmec sites or sites with Olmec influence

- | | | |
|----------------------|------------------|---------------------|
| 1. Tlatilco | 9. Monte Albán | 18. Chiapa de Corzo |
| 2. Cuicuilco | 10. El Viejón | 19. Xoc |
| 3. Chalcatzingo | 11. La Mojarra | 20. Pijijiapan |
| 4. Texpa | 12. Tres Zapotes | 21. Izapa |
| 5. Teopantecuanitlán | 13. San Lorenzo | 22. Abaj Takalik |
| 6. Olinalá | 14. Las Limas | 23. Monte Alto |
| 7. Oxtotitlán | 15. La Venta | 24. Chalchuapa |
| 8. Las Bocas | 16. El Manatí | 25. Copán |
| | 17. Balancán | 26. Cuello |

We have been lied to in regards to true American (Amexem) History and World History. The Olmec (Old Mexico) stone heads were found spread over Mexico across to the Yucatan Peninsula. There is no surprise that those who say they are educated, inclusive of some who refer to themselves as scholarly, are not able to recognize the half that has not been told. They are taught with only a portion of the truth, with truth and falsehood STRANGELY mixed, leaning more towards falsehood the longer they stay in institutions dedicated to same, of which, we trust has now come to pass. Although they may consider themselves educated, they are 'fools' right on walking off the cliff without knowing. Not wanting it to be obvious, they jump through hoops to defend their so-called education. No wonder there are all kinds of versions and diversions keeping the family from uniting, as they have but only a small piece of truth. However, we march forth to bring forth the "Uniting of Asia". Asia (Asa) meaning lower realm, is the 'name' of the entire planet and North, South, Central and the adjoining Islands is 'Asia Major' - not Asia Minor. The aboriginal and indigenous people across the entire planet are the first navigators - Moors, who moored over the land and the sea. Where the water meets the land is called the 'moors, moorlands, wetlands, also marshlands even unto today. F.Y.I.: Those who most think are Asians today, are actually amalgamated / Mongoloids. If one were to do research of ancestors of the lands now called China, Japan, Ireland, or of anywhere on the planet, they would find them to be dark melanated and of various copper tones, including the so-called Eskimos (escaped Moors) of Alaska (Al aqsa) the far west. — R.V. Bey