Status – The etymology of the word state comes from the Latin “Status” – stare – to stand; Status – manner of standing, attitude, position, carriage, manner, dress, apparel; and other senses of standing, attitude, position, carriage, manner, dress, apparel; and other senses.

Resident – One who resides actually and permanently in a given place, and has his domicile there. Ex parte Shaw, 12 S.Ct. 935, 145 U.S. 444, 36 L.Ed. 768; The Pizarro, 2 Wheat. 245, 4 L.Ed. 226. “The words 'inhabitant,' 'citizen,' and 'resident,' as employed in different constitutions to define the qualifications of electors, mean substantially the same thing; and one is an inhabitant, resident, or citizen at the place where he has his domicile or home.” Cooley, Const.Lim. *600; State ex rel. Sathre v. Moodie, 65 N.D. 340, 258 N.W. 558, 564. But the terms "resident" and "inhabitant" have also been held not synonymous, the latter implying a more fixed and permanent abode than the former, and importing privileges and duties to which a mere resident would not be subject. Tazewell County v. Davenport, 40 Ill. 197; State, to Use of Knox County Collector, v. Bunce, 187 Mo.App. 607, 173 S.W. 101, 102.

When relating to municipal rights, powers, or duties, the word inhabitant is almost universally used as signifying precisely the same as domiciled; Borland v. City of Boston, 132 Mass. 98, 42 Am.Rep. 424.

Enumeration – The act of enumerating, making separate mention, or recounting: A detailed account, in which each thing is specially noticed.

Representation – present active repraesentō, present infinitive repraesentāre, perfect active repraesentāvi, supine repraesentātūnum
1. I represent, depict
2. I display, exhibit or show

Representative (comparative more representative, superlative most representative):
1. Typical; having the same properties of interest as a larger group.

Definitions for Review:

State - A People permanently occupying a fixed territory, bound together by common-law, habits, and custom into one body politic exercising, through the medium of an organized government, independent sovereignty and control over all persons and things within its boundaries, capable of making war and peace and of entering into international relations with other communities of the globe. Black’s Law Dictionary 4th Edition.

Reminder Notes for future classes:

Group Discussion Question:
7. Who do you think the free persons are, those bound to service, Indians not taxes, and what are three fifths of all other persons?

For Review:

All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States - Moors, which shall consist- [stands together with] of a Senate and House of Representatives – [members elected from the Union States]

The three great departments of government:

1. Legislative – pass law – this is appropriate if you comprehend that the Moors make up the United States and only the sovereign of the land can make any laws.
2. Executive – approve and execute the laws that have been passed
3. Judicial – expound and enforce the laws that have been passed

The enumeration (count) shall initially be completed within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of 10 years.

The number of Representative for each Union States shall not exceed one for every 30,000, but each Union State shall have at least 1 representative.

Until such enumeration-[count of Union members] shall be made-[are complete], the states shall be entitled to choose as follows:

- New Hampshire: three
- Massachusetts: eight
- Rhode Island and Providence Plantations: one
- Connecticut: five
- New York: six
- New Jersey: four
- Pennsylvania: eight
- Delaware: one
- Maryland: six
- Virginia: ten
- North Carolina: five
- South Carolina: five
- Georgia: three

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any state, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies. [This is by writ and not the election of the members of the State, said executive authority must be defined as it relates to the state]

2:7 Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States: but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

4:1 The Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.
5:2 Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member.
5:4 Neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.
6:1 They shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same;
6:2 No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he is elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office.

8:9 The Congress shall have power to constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court.

8:12 The Congress shall have power to raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years.

8:15 The Congress shall have power to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

9:1 The migration or importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

9:2 The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

9:3 No bill of attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

9:4 No capitation, or other direct, tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census of enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

9:5 No tax of duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

9:6 No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

9:7 No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state.

10:1 No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marquee and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

10:3 No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops, or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

Hint:
The American Constitution 1791 is the Supreme Law of the Land (House Rules) for the purpose of maintaining the balance of Harmony. It is the obligation of all declared Moors to ensure that it is enforced at all times!!! so Moors are not molested by other citizens [modern European aliens], and neither are any others who have been allowed to come to this land, whether temporarily or permanently. Enforce it so that all will not be molested and can, and will, and do, live in Peace (a lawful pillar of justice).

Concluding Perspective:
Persons are not the subjects of commerce, and not being imported goods, they do not fall within the meaning founded upon the Constitution, of a power given to Congress, to regulate commerce, and the prohibition of the States for imposing a duty on imported goods. Ibid.; Gibbons v. Ogden, 9 Wheat. 1;5 Cond. Rep. 562.

“The Constitution is a written instrument. As such, its meaning does not alter. That which it meant when it was adopted, it means now.” S. Carolina v. U.S., 199 U.S. 437, 448 (1905).

“We are bound to interpret the Constitution in the light of the law as it existed at the time it was adopted.” Mattox v. U.S., 156 US 237, 243.
